

Entanglement | photoshop/illustrator mock-up. 2005

Entanglement is an interactive installation of Rafael Lozano-Hemmer. It consists of two identical neon signs placed in two separate rooms. Under each sign there is a normal light switch that turns it on and off so it can interact with the other.

Photographies of the real artwork are available here: <http://www.lozano-hemmer.com/english/projects/entanglement.htm>
